

PORCHLIGHT

FOR MICHELLE KENNEDY

MUSIC & LYRICS BY TIFFANY AYALIK

A road less traveled
When life comes undone
Best plans come unraveled
The past we try to outrun
The porch light is always on
Burning through the longest night
Gently braving any storm
Come on in, it will be alright

No matter what shoes you are in
Soles worn thin from there you've been
I will come and meet you where you are
You will never be too far
The porch light is always on
Burning through the longest night
Gently braving any storm
Come on in, it will be alright

A hard world can turn your heart to stone
When you bear it all along
Know that here you have a home
You can rest your weary bones

A soft place to land
Welcome day and night
I will answer the call
I will take up the fight

The porch light is always here
Shining through for everyone
So let me wipe away that tear
Things will look better in the sun
The porch light is always on
Burning through the longest night
Gently braving any storm
Come on in, it will be alright
