

THE GARDENER

FOR SAKENA YACOOBI

MUSIC & LYRICS BY SARA COLMAN

Give me a pencil and teach me how to write
And I will write the story of my own life Show me the world and may eyes will open wide
And they will shine upon a world which waits for me

Give me a voice and my soul will learn to sing
And my song will see me through the darkest times Teach me the words of the wise and of the true
And I will whisper them onto the wind

This is how a gardener tends her earth
She sows her love into the dirt
And her heart beats in this land

Give me a reason and I will learn to trust
And my trust will gather inspiration Stand here beside me till I can stand alone Show me how and I will find my way

This is how a gardener tends her earth
She sows her love into the dirt
With every seed she plants a hope Look at how her garden grows and her heart beats in this land
Yes, her heart beats in this land
